Sequoits Play Fenton Today, Grant Friday; Ela Won Friday 2 to 1

Antioch High School's baseball team hoped for favorable weather today and tomorrow for games with Fenton and Grant in effort to annex victories that will make up for the 2 to 1 loss to Ela Vernon at Lake Zurich last Friday.

They are scheduled to play Fenton High at Bensenville this afternoon and Grant here Friday afternoon.

Although ideal weather prevailed Monday at Grayslake where the Sequoits went to cross bats with the Rams, the umpire failed to show up and after a few practice innings the game was rescheduled.

Despite soft ground from the day before's rain, Larry Leon's boys as well as the Ela Bears played a good game Friday. Antioch had the bases loaded twice but failed to score via the double play route.

Antioch scored in the second inning when Pohlman, Ela shortstop overthrew first on Deppe's grounder and the Antioch third baseman went to second. Swanson sacrificed Deppe to third and Deppe scored on fielder's choice of Stonis' grounder, second to first.

Antioch had the bases filled in the first inning but Parker hit into a double play, and under the same

Antioch Business Men and Women Told How to Produce Effective Advertising at C. C. Meeting

Advertising should tell the consumer the way the product will benefit him if good results are to be obtained, Ray Weber, head of the advertising department of Swift & Co., Chicago, told Antioch merchants Monday evening.

Forty business men and women attended the dinner meeting at the Ruralite following which the Chicago advertising man talked on effective advertising.

"There are a few fundamentals in advertising which must be remembered," said Weber. "The quality of the product and its price must be made known. There must be adequate distribution and there should be simplicity in the style of the advertising."

Weber insisted there must be honesty in advertising. "Remember this," he told the merchants, "it is the message and not the vehicle that sells the product."

The newspaper or the radio and television may carry the message to the people, but it is the message that makes the sale.

Newspapers Best Media
In the last 15 years the amount of money spent in advertising has increased to four times the original amount, and in the United States is estimated at four billion dollars. Newspapers carry 34 per cent of the advertising, the rest being spent on TV, radio, magazines, bill boards and other media.

"Steps in salesmanship must be carried out in advertising," Weber declared. First, the advertising must get attention; next, it must excite the reader and create interest in the product; thirdly, it must create a desire for the product; fourth, it must convince him of his need of the product; and finally, it must clinch the sale and cause him to act.

President Joseph Patrovsky of the Chamber of Commerce has arranged for members of Weber's large staff to appear at succeeding weekly classes which will be held at the Antioch Township High School. Each will speak on a different phase of advertising, or salesmanship through media. The first will be at 8 p. m. May 17.

There will be no charge for the instruction and anyone interested may attend.

Jay Cribb, playing a cornet solo, placed second, and so did a trumpet trio comprising Barbara Doolittle, Brian Cain and Ronald Mack.

Drive to Raise Fund For Prince of Peace New School, Church

Lake Villa Twp. Catholic Parish to Conduct Drive On Sunday, May 27

A drive to raise $200,000 to finance a church and school for the Prince of Peace Catholic parish at Lake Villa will be conducted Sunday, May 27 under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. David Lynch, and the chairman, Lester Hamlin.

The committee already is planning the campaign which will cover the parish within the borders of Lake Villa Township.

Prince of Peace parish was formed last July when the number of school children threatened to become too great for St. Peter's school at Antioch and St. Gilbert's school at Grayslake to handle.

Mass has been held weekly in the Lake Villa Grade school awaiting the time when a church can be built on a site on the south side of Grand ave. 1000 feet east of Rte. 21.

The critical need for both the school and church will be placed before the 350 families so that the buildings can be started as soon as possible. If the goal in pledges is reached the chancery office in Chicago will advance the money, it is said.

The Antioch Fire department is starting practice for the competitive events at the annual Lake County Firemen's Assn. convention to be held Saturday, June 2 at Libertyville with the Libertyville and Half Day (Vernon) departments as co-hosts.

One piece of equipment will be taken for use in the parade.

The usual contests are hose laying hook-ups and water battle.

The firemen Tuesday evening dined on baked ham and German potato salad as guests of the Antioch Lumber Co., of which Ed Vos is proprietor.

They made plans and soon will start the ticket sale for the annual dance which will be held June 30.

Antioch High school was represented this afternoon at the spring convention of the student councils of the Northwest Conference at Grant Community High school. Principal business will be the nomination, election and installation of officers for the year.

Junior Prom Queen, Court Ride to Throne On Crescent "Moons"

Riding on rail-controlled crescent moons, Judy Horton, Junior prom queen and her escort, Jerry Huml, the king, rode to their throne during the "Penthouse Serenade" dance of Antioch Township High School last Saturday evening.

Miss Horton's court attendants arrived on "moons" from alternate sides of the throne where they were met by their escorts. Those in the court were Carol Frazier and Lonule Christensen, Gerry Ostelski and Norman Wojcinski, Sandy Tegelmann and Roger Piechaty, Diane Freels and Ray Gelden.

Last year's queen, Priscilla Bauguess, returned from Muscatine, Ia. and officiated at the crowning of Miss Horton and Robert Terry, 1955 king, crowned Huml.

A low-hanging star-filled ceiling simulated the sky, while one side of the gymnasium became a city skyline and the opposite side a building where the penthouse was situated. Outdoor furniture for relaxation added to the atmosphere of the roof garden as did the suspended clouds near the thrones.

Tommy Allan's orchestra from Chicago provided the music.

Rural Antioch Youth In Car Theft Shot in Leg by Deputy Sheriff

James D. Dill, 16, of rural Antioch who was shot in the leg Saturday night while fleeing from a stolen station wagon was released from Victory Memorial hospital Tuesday.

He told State's Atty. Kenneth R. Shortt he did not blame Deputy Sheriff Leonard J. Hink for shooting him for his act of reaching into his pocket for a cigarette lighter that threatened to bounce out, might have appeared as if he was reaching for a gun.

Hink said he fired several shots over the head of Dill and a companion who has not yet been apprehended. "He reached into his pocket

Official Figure to be Given From Washington Within Few Weeks

Antioch has a population of 1,802. This was revealed yesterday at the completion of the interim census conducted by the Chicago office of the U. S. Bureau of the Census. It represented a gain of 495 since the census was taken in 1950 which shows the village having 1,307 residents.

The five women working three days enumerated 1,793 citizens. Then Village Clerk Clarence Shultis discovered six persons who had been overlooked and the total reached 1,799.

Antioch Rescue Squad Elects for Two Years

When Herman Holbek was re-elected captain of the Antioch Rescue squad at its meeting Monday evening, he had completed 18 years of service in the organization.

He and the officers chosen will serve for two years. The others are Charles Larson and Walter I. Scott, lieutenants; George Bartlett, president; Scott, treasurer; and Ernest Westlund, secretary.

After the election and business session refreshments were served.

While complimenting Treasurer Scott on his many years of good service the squad members gave Scott's wife, Ruth, a share of the credit for her assistance.

Dr. Henri Rochard Will Address Lions Monday

Dr. Henri Rochard, a native of Belgium, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Antioch Lions Club Monday evening at Smart's Country House. His topic will be "I Was a War Bride" and will deal with life in Belgium. The program was announced by A. L. Dittman, high school principal.

Music will be provided by students from the music department of the Antioch Township High School, Louis Chenette, director.

The Antioch News was informed of this situation and the deficit was quickly remedied. Mrs. Margaret Gaston, publisher of the Antioch News recalled that her nephew, Donald Gaston, printer at this newspaper who resides with her, had not been listed, and reported the fact to Shultis. A few hours later Mrs. Martha Hunter, village treasurer, reported two more. These will be reported by Shultis to Washington, D. C.

While the goal of 1,800 was reached, it does not mean that others who may have been missed should not make the fact known. The deadline for reporting additional names is May 15, but the person must have been a resident of Antioch prior to May 3. Babies born since that time cannot be counted.

College Student Not Counted
Another peculiar ruling of the census is the fact that although Antioch is their home, students away at college are not counted because they are not in the village nine months out of the year. They would be enumerated as residents of the place in which the college or university is situated regardless of the fact that this is their voting place.

The official population census for Antioch will be announced in a few weeks from Washington after the present and additional information are checked and recorded.

On the basis of this unofficial figure, Antioch stands to receive a yearly increase in motor fuel tax revenue of approximately $5,500 which well repays the village for the trouble and expense it went to to provide for the extra census.

The count this week was 159 more than the unofficial count made last summer by the Antioch firemen and indicates that the village is having a steady growth. With annexations the village could approach 2,500 by 1960.

Those who did the enumerating were Mesdames Roman Vos, Harold Ellis, Frank Appleby, John Dupre, and Anthony Scully.

High S. Board Ok's Summer Music; Will Study Bus Offers

Antioch high school musicians will have the opportunity to continue their studies throughout the summer as a result of action by the high school board at a meeting held last night (Wednesday). Cost of the program, which will run for ten weeks, two days per week, is limited to $500.

In speaking for the program it was pointed out that the continued practice through the summer vacation will allow youngsters coming into high school to keep up with their work, as well as keeping those who are already members of the band to keep in shape. Seniors who will graduate this spring will also be eligible.

Transportation Studied

Three bids were received for transportation of students next year and these will be studied at a meeting to be held for that purpose. It is estimated that the cost, including special trips, will run about $25,000 annually, on the basis of bids received. Cost of operating the transportation system by the school has been about one-half of this figure.

Other business transacted at the meeting involved the hiring of a new teacher, and approval of a tentative list of expenditures for next year. These figures will be used in preparing the annual budget.

Grassroots Opinion

FAIRFAX, MINN., STANDARD: "... In 1948 Congress continued the 90 per cent rigid support, and farm prices slipped and continued so, until the war in 1950 again boosted them. ... But this time even war could not keep up those extravagant prices. ... Study and patience, not war, will and should solve the farm problem—let's help, not hinder those who are trying."

AMBRIDGE, PA., DAILY CITIZEN: "It seems to have escaped the Congressmen that the purpose of the franking and mailing privilege is to allow Congressmen to inform and assist constituents, and not to practice electioneering at a minimum personal cost."

BELMONT, N. Y., DISPATCH: "The critical financial needs of the nation's private educational institutions ... are being more and more consistently aided by contributions from business and industry. ... furnishing a worthy example which the general public well might follow in such financial support."

PIKETON, O., PRESS: "The separation of powers in a democracy into independent legislative, executive and judicial branches was made for a purpose: So that no one power can become so strong as to control all governmental functions. This protects the people from the tyranny of unrestricted rule by any part of the whole government. The separation of power is one of our assets of greatest value. Nothing should be permitted to change, modify, or in any way weaken it."

Well-Earned Honors

"Medical Education Week" is scheduled for the April 22-28 period. The contributions and services of the nation's 81 medical schools to the public will be highlighted in a coast to coast observance.

President Eisenhower set the general tenor when he said: "This week will give the American people a special opportunity to learn of the great contributions to the national welfare which American medical schools have made, and the goals which they have set themselves for the future." Dr. Elmer Hess, president of the American Medical Association, emphasized the Week's significance in these words: "During the past forty years, medical education has taken tremendous strides qualitatively and quantitatively. Yet we think that medical schools will be enabled to perform even greater services in teaching, research, and medical care if the American people learn of and appreciate the splendid work they are now conducting."

These schools have done an extraordinarily fine job. During the 1954-55 academic year, they graduated more physicians, enrolled more students, and conducted more extensive research than at any other time in their history. As a result of their continuing progress, the United States has become the mecca of medical education, and its people are the healthiest in the world. Chalk up another great victory for free medicine!

More than 1,000 communities have planned observances for the week. Newspapers, magazines, and radio and TV systems are cooperating. All this attention and all the honors involved have been thoroughly earned.

Grass Roots Opinion

WASHINGTON, IOWA, EVENING JOURNAL: "When it becomes harder to sell than to buy, look for a price sag. When it's harder to buy than to sell, look for prices to climb. This seems to apply to every type of merchandise sold, and the only way to change it is to turn everything we have over to the government and let the experts handle all supplies and demands. Most of us—we hope—still prefer to face the occasional uncertainties of the market than to put all our trust in politicians and economists."

FERRIS, CALIF., PROGRESS: "Certainly, the highway problem is a pressing and complicated one. Whether it can best be solved by the old formula of 'let the federal government do it' is a question a good many people are pondering very seriously."

CALGARY, CANADA, HERALD: "No one wants to impede civil defense. At the same time handing sweeping powers to the government, any government, is dangerous and totally unnecessary. Parliament must be the arbiter of what is right, not some official who was granted the powers and won't have to answer for them because he was given them by an act which was not necessary."

ABLENE, KANS., REFLECTOR-CHRONICLE: "A recession is a period when you tighten your belt. In a depression you have no belt to tighten. When you have no pants to hold up it's a panic."

BREEZE, ILL., JOURNAL: "Pravda, the chief Russian newspaper, gives familiar advice to those who would attain ... advanced years. They should avoid worry, sleep regularly, avoid excessive smoking or drinking. This leaves out the most important requirement: Don't criticize the government."

BISHOP, CALIF., REGISTER: "... Rather than ask for price support at the expense of the consumer, cattlemen have launched a self-help effort to stabilize the present difficult cattle situation. They've gotten together with other people in the beef business—the feeders, packers and retailers. ... All the cattlemen ask is that the public help itself to beef, particularly to the less demanded cuts which are in such great supply right now. They point out that these cuts can be as tasty, when properly cooked, as those cuts we pay more for. And they're every bit as nutritious."

BEDFORD, VA., BULLETIN: "We believe in price supports because it is the only system yet devised which gives agriculture something at least akin to an even break, but we do not like the way the system has been administered and abused."

Blade cut pot roasts at this week's consensus price mentioned above computes about 14c a standard serving, and rib roasts at 23c a standard serving. Other quotes: Short ribs range 15-25c from last week's 19c, for a per serving cost range of 8-13c; most plate beef items quote similarly; corned beef up an average 2c, reaching a typical 51c; round steaks steady at 49c; cube steaks 69c; rolled boneless rump roasts lowest at 69c, and hamburger starts at 33c.

Pork—Fresh cut pork situation improves with drop in wholesale loin prices. Picnics, or Cala hams—that provide two servings a pound—quote 29-39c range; canned short shank cooked picnics quote lowest at 55c; smoked Boston butts that provide four servings a pound quote 53-61c by brands. Bacon remains at a consensus 43c for regular slice good quality but 49-53c for top brands. Sausage in bulk quotes lowest at 25c.

Poultry and eggs—While fryers hold the value position, stewing hens warrant consideration at a range of 36-42c and ducks are a value according to many quotes, but running typically 49c. Eggs hold seasonally low and steady, mostly 49c dozen for grade A large white, 2c lower for mixed.

Produce—Apple products are representative of a variety of canned, frozen and fresh fruit values. A different storage method—called "modified atmosphere"—prolongs marketing season and maintains better quality for McIntosh apples, one of the varieties used in commercial tests. The result, current Chicago quotes of 2 lbs. 39c, (virtually fall level pricing). Western Delicious quote 2 lbs. 25c. Spot values also in canned apple products.

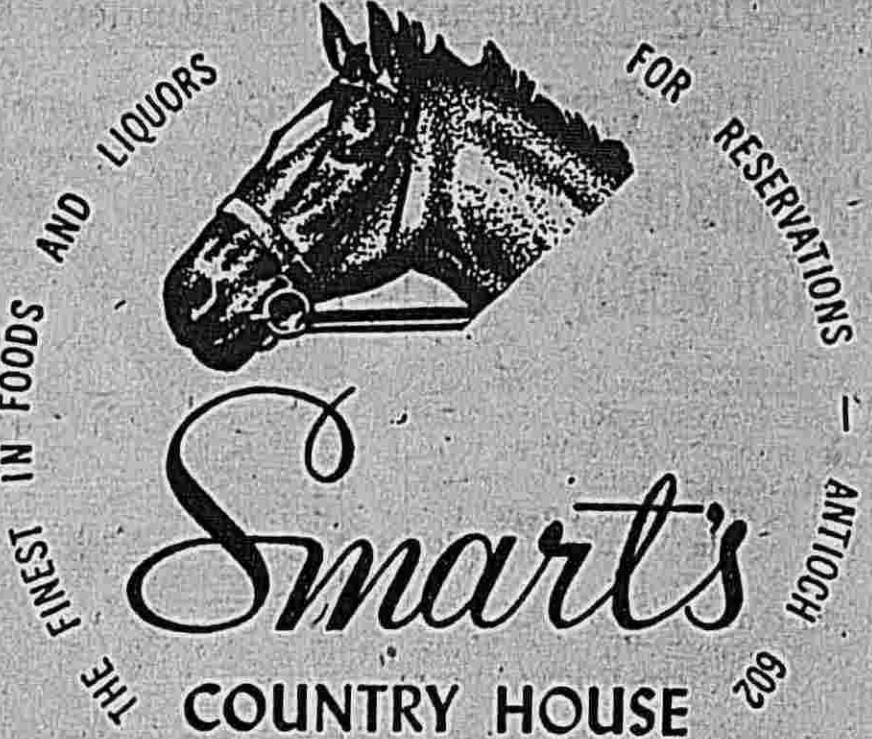

Florida oranges and grapefruit are firmer at wholesale and reflect accordingly at retail. California oranges mostly 69-73c for larger sizes. Pineapple a value at 29c. Vegetables quote variable with touchy spring weather but mostly steady to lower as noted. Potatoes are expected to have reached their high point for the season for old crop Idaho's and Dakota reds. Increased shipments of new potatoes are expected to soften prices a penny. Green beans are an example of bad weather dividends, moving higher and of generally poor quality. Special items: Expect watermelon at prevailing 8c per pound, cantaloupe higher, and mushrooms a better treat with 5 oz. packages mostly 25c.

Groceries and Frozen Foods—While there are no appreciable market changes, there will be many consumer values showing up in spring promotion spurges for key fruit and vegetable items, canned tuna, frozen pot pies, and a few dairy foods, mainly cheese. Canned fruits receive feature attention in many stores. Most often quoted are 16 oz. pears, 23c, Elberta peach halves or sections 29c for 2½ size, fruit cocktail 16 oz. size 23c, and apple sauce 23c.

Frozen Vegetables—Mostly peas, corn, snap and lima beans—quote at per serving cost levels of 6c. A typical 10 oz. package of these items serve three. Strawberries, raspberries and orange concentrate round out the frozen line features at steady price levels.

Tax Facts

Once upon a time, long, long ago a large flock of pigeons lived on the shores of Africa. The pigeons flew inland to collect seeds, flew over the beach seeking delicacies tossed up by the sea, and by working diligently succeeded in making a good living and raising strong, healthy families.

Then one day a messenger brought news of a great find. He told of an island where the food was so plentiful that the birds would not have to spend so much time working for a living.

Of course the pigeons were elated and the entire flock migrated to Mauritius and there lived the proverbial life of Riley. In fact the life was so good that the pigeons, not needing to go distances in search of food, forgot how to fly.

Years went by, the forgotten wings became useless. Then man landed on the island and discovered that the oversized pigeons were excellent eating and a good source of supply for the family pantry. In a few years the DODO became extinct.

Federal aid funds to local government results in the same debilitating effect on local government as did the plentiful food supply have upon the dodo. Once Federal authority and Federal money steps in local authority, local initiative, and local effort wither.

A little noticed proposal before Congress calls for Federal aid for local libraries; the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois reports. The possibility of passage rests upon the success of the Federal aid to education measures.

The strongest element in local libraries is the interest and concern of the local citizens and patrons. The Federation reminds that the story of the Dodo is one of the best arguments against a new Federal program of aid for local libraries.

Market Survey For Week of May 7-12th

CHICAGO—U. S. meat production set a record high during April, hog output showing the greatest gain and reflecting weaker prices at retail. This prompted the University of Illinois to rate pork roasts and chops in the consumer value position for the week ending May 12. Pork had trended higher the past few weeks and no guarantees are made that this week's advantages will hold for long.

The U. of I. consumer service weekly survey of buyers representing 800 wholesale and retail outlets in metropolitan Chicago painted this general picture of consumer values for the week:

1. Pork, generally weaker—loin end roasts typically 45c, rib end roasts 35c, and center cut chops 69c.

2. Beef, market about 5 per cent higher at wholesale—blade cut pot roasts 33c, and rib roasts range 53-55c, probably spot market values.

3. Poultry, slightly weaker—2½ pound fryers 35c-39c.

4. Fresh produce steady to lower for these items: new potato stocks dropp 1c pound, lettuce 2/33c, green house tomatoes 39-49c, tube tomatoes, 19-23c, strawberries 49c a quart (limited) and average 29c a pint, and sweet corn 6/29c.

Meat slaughter under federal inspection the last week in April exceeded 423-million pounds, up 6 per cent over the preceding week and 11 per cent above the corresponding week last year, making it a record month. Beef cattle jumped 4 per cent over the preceding week and 3 per cent over last year. But hog slaughter soared 10 per cent above the week before and a rousing 28 per cent over like 1955, accounting for the weakened prices. Lamb production was down a shade from the previous week and also a year ago.

Other market specifics include: Beef — Despite the 6 per cent wholesale increase in the face of larger cattle runs, prices are still about 10 per cent below a year ago.

University of Illinois Tells Why Rhetoric 100 Will Be Out After 1960

When the University of Illinois Board of Trustees recently announced its decision to drop remedial rhetoric, it generated a mild scholastic explosion throughout the nation. Editorial comment was almost unanimously favorable. High school teachers and students wanted to know why the special-help course was being thrown out and what they should do now.

The University's catalogue calls the course—Rhetoric 100—an "intensive review of fundamentals with considerable practice in composition." Students who are poor in English will not be able to take this non-credit course after September 1960. It will not be taught after that date.

The reason for the decision is plain. The University can no longer afford the often futile expenditure of time and money and the employment of valuable staff members to try to teach college students what they should have been taught earlier.

In his recommendation for abolishing Rhetoric 100, Prof. Charles W. Roberts, director of freshman rhetoric, asked that the money spent on the high-school-level course be used to strengthen the college-level instruction in the regular rhetoric courses.

"Certainly laboring to get 18-year-old young men and women to tell the difference between 'their' and 'there' is not the proper business of higher education," Prof. Roberts said. "Yet that is the sort of instruction we have to offer in Rhetoric 100."

Almost 30 per cent of the freshman class in September 1955 failed the Freshman Rhetoric Placement Test used to discover which student are qualified to enter the basic college rhetoric course. The freshmen who failed betrayed ignorance of basic writing techniques, grammar, spelling, and punctuation. All of these skills are essential to success in college, and the prospective freshman should have mastered them before the left high school.

"Many high schools are doing fine work in English," Prof. Roberts said, "but we get some freshmen who can't even spell the name of the high school that gave them a diploma."

One such student chose as his test theme topic, "What they see in Martin and Lewis." He wrote:

"The acts that are put on by this team are very amusing because the plays that are put on are in everyone's mind at some time or other, that is, in a persons sence of humor. I think Martin and Lewis went to the top mainly for this reason. They have increased in popularity at a terrific pace and have went so far as to be a big hit at stage shows, television, and also some movies. It is in my opinion that most of the hilarious comedy acts are centered around Jerry Lewis...."

The University of Illinois is ready to help high school English teachers in their attempts to maintain more respectable standards in composition. To this end the University Senate Committee on Student English and the English Department have published an explanatory booklet entitled, "Standards in Freshman Rhetoric."

The booklet was read and approved before publication by about 50 high school and college teachers throughout Illinois. About 15,000 copies have been sent without charge to teachers, school boards, and other interested persons. Requests for copies are still coming in from throughout Illinois and from other states as well.

The book explains the standards maintained in the Freshman rhetoric courses and gives examples of themes actually written on the placement test that faces freshmen.

It does not pretend to be a teaching guide book. It does not tell the teacher how to teach. It states with uncompromising precision the minimum requirements of the University and leaves methods up to the secondary schools.

The "Standards" booklet includes a 100-item objective test of the type given as a part of the placement examination. The objective test is designed for an average college freshman score of 75. It asks the student to indicate the correct form in multiple choice questions. For example: section A asks students to indicate the word nearest in meaning to the underlined word:

1. The speech was full of eloquent invective. a. eulogy, b. denunciation, c. comparison.

2. He was a verbose lecturer. a. learned, b. vivid, c. wordy.

3. Is he a contemporary writer? a. fluent, b. objectionable, c. current.

In section B, the student is asked to indicate the correct spelling for each word:

1. a. proclaimed, b. proclamed, c. proclaimmed.

2. a. supress, b. suppress, c. surpress.

3. a. tendency, b. tendancy, c. tendency.

In section C, the student is to indicate the best version of the underlined passage:

1. They called Doctor Green. a. Doctor Green, b. Dr. Green, c. Doc. Green.

2. Well, Bill, what do you think? a. Well, Bill, what, b. Well, Bill, what, c. Well Bill what.

3. Ones beliefs should be respected. a. Ones, b. Ones' c. One's.

In section D the student chooses the best statement in each group:

1. a. A comma should always be between a town and state. b. A town and state should always be separated by a comma. c. One should use a comma between the name of a town and the name of a state.

2. a. Between you and me, he acts as if he were intoxicated. b. Between you and me, he acts like he is intoxicated. c. Between you and I, he acts as if he was intoxicated.

3. a. What he says and his actions are no concern of mine. b. His sayings and his actions being no concern of mine. c. What he says and does are no concern of mine.

Part two of the Freshman Rhetoric Placement Test asks the freshman to write a theme on one of 20 suggested topics such as "How to fight the double feature," "Dope addicts are dopes," and "New developments on the farm." He is allowed an hour to write several pages on his subject. If there is a discrepancy between the score on the multiple-choice test and the grade on the impromptu theme, the theme is given the more weight.

For better or worse, the University places great emphasis on grades. Most college students, especially new ones, wonder how rhetoric instructors arrive at the letter grades they place on written work. The new brochure explains the system.

A paper with originality, clarity, logic and accuracy—clearly above average—will get an A. If a theme contains three serious errors, such as incomplete sentences, misspellings, run-together sentences, poor penmanship, illogical paragraphing, poor development or other weaknesses, it will almost automatically receive an E. The other grades fall logically between the two extremes.

However, the grade a student gets at the end of the semester is not a cold average of the grades he has received during the semester. Rather it is the instructor's estimate of the student's ability at the close of instruction.

Because Rhetoric 100 will be abandoned after the 1960 summer school session, students who enter high school next fall will have to take the regular freshman rhetoric course when they come to the university. If they do not come proficient in the basics of English composition, they may fail the course. As a matter of fact, they will probably fail other courses, too. The Rhetoric Placement Test is regarded by some University authorities as the best predictor of college success of all tests given to entering freshmen.

Thin Seafarers Less Susceptible To Seasickness

CHICAGO—Chances of seasickness are lowest among passengers who are under 25, slightly thin, traveling midship on a second or third voyage—and are supplied with one of 11 drugs recently proved to be helpful.

A five-month study of 26 anti-motion sickness drugs among 17,000 servicemen, shows that 11 of them were helpful and three of these were more effective than the rest.

The tests were run from Nov. 14, 1954 to April 10, 1955, on military transports crossing the Atlantic. Ten eastward and five westward crossings were used. Passengers were given unmarked pills which were either drugs or placebos. Placebos are inactive substances used as a yardstick against which the action of real medicines can be measured.

The study showed that susceptibility to seasickness decreased with age; that individuals quarantined for and aft were more susceptible than those in midship; that heavier individuals were slightly more susceptible than their lighter colleagues. The activities of the men while on board had no relation to their susceptibility to illness.

Motion sickness was twice as frequent in persons who had had it before as in those with no history of sickness. However, seasickness was less frequent on westward trips—probably because all the passengers had had at least one previous crossing.

The most effective drugs, by trade name, were Bonamine, Phenegan, and Marezine, when given three times daily.

Scientists Study Uncharted Gulf

WASHINGTON — A study by Australian scientists of the unpredictable tides in the Gulf of Carpentaria will shed new light on one of the world's least-known major bodies of water.

The gulf cuts deeply into the northern coast of Australia. It is 420 miles wide from Cape York to Cape Arnhem and 400 miles in length, almost one third the size of the Gulf of Mexico.

Besides unstable tides, generally shallow water and many shoals make navigation dangerous in the Carpentaria gulf. Its shoreline ranges from flat, miles-wide marshes to rock granite cliffs. Mariners are warned by shipping authorities that some of the island-dotted coasts are still uncharted.

Plankton—tiny plant and animal life—swarms in gulf waters, giving off a vivid phosphorescent glow. At night, waves and ripples are marked with rainbow colors, pink, blue and yellow.

Electron Microscope Probing New World

WASHINGTON — A hitherto invisible and almost unprobed world of the infinitesimally little, as extensive as that revealed by the optical microscope over the past two centuries, now is being seen and explored. Objects and possible organisms within it may be as small as a millionfold smaller than ever seen before. This is the rapidly opening field of the electron microscope.

About the smallest object that can be seen with visible light, regardless of how great the magnification of the microscope used, is approximately 100,000th of an inch in length. In two centuries the microscope has improved enormously. But it still is incapable of making visible even the largest of molecules or any of those strange things between the worlds of the living and the non-living—the filterable viruses. Now this barrier has been crossed by the electron microscope. By means of it one may see objects 100th the length of the smallest made visible by the optical microscope.

Two Fires Confuse Television Watcher

GUELPH, Ont.—Frank Traplin was watching a television movie of a fire that destroyed the three-story Windsor Hotel when his wife shouted from the kitchen: "Fire! Fire!"

Replied Traplin: "I'm watching the fire on TV. Don't bother me now."

Minutes later, firemen extinguished a blaze in the Traplin kitchen. A neighbor had called them. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

By Accident

LITTLE ROCK—A man stepped in front of a moving car and State Patrolman Leslie Caldwell was forced to slam on the brakes. "Where do you think you're going?" demanded the pedestrian. "To police headquarters," Caldwell replied. "Hop in." The man paid a fine for drunkenness.

Poppy Time

It is American Legion "Poppy Time" again. An estimated 50,000 men and women volunteer workers, members of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, and other volunteer citizens, will sell poppies on the street corners of cities and villages throughout Illinois on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 26.

Frank W. Bloom of Chicago, Poppy chairman of the American Legion, Department of Illinois, which has sponsored the tag day in the state for over a quarter of a century, estimated that "about three and one-half million poppies will be sold."

Bloom asked every citizen of Illinois to "remember that the little red memorial flower symbolizes hope to those men who fought for our country and now lie sick in veteran hospitals."

"The same flower," he said, "symbolizes aid to those veterans and their families who are in need."

In making the statement, Bloom also made a statewide appeal for men and women to help the Legionnaires and members of the Auxiliary, sell the poppies.

"We cannot let down the men in the hospitals who make the poppies," Bloom said. "In order to make the program a success this year, we must count not only on the generosity of the people who buy the poppies, but volunteers to help sell them on street corners in every part of the State."

He asked that anyone willing to serve as a tagger on Poppy Day call the nearest American Legion office.

All poppies scheduled for sale in the State of Illinois were assembled by veterans at veteran hospitals in the state. All monies raised will go for service and relief work among needy disabled veterans and their dependents through American Legion's Service department.

A. T. H. S. Again Accredited
Antioch Township High School officials have received notice from the office of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools that the local high school has been again placed on the list of secondary schools approved for the 1956-57 school year. The action was taken at the annual business meeting of the Association in Chicago April 8-11, 1956.

The approval of the Association indicates that the local high school meets satisfactorily the high educational standards and qualifications of the North Central Association.

Trousers are easy to pack—but there's only one right way to pack a jacket. Button it and place it face down across the width of the suitcase.

Flip it and the sleeves across the back of the jacket. Flip the bottom of the jacket over into the suitcase, folding at the waist—and that is that.

When are we men going to get wise and imitate the sensible French by tucking our napkins in at the neck, where they cover our ties, shirt and coat front, instead of placing them on our laps where they do us no good? Somebody ought to start a Society for the Liberation of Suppressed Napkins.

One of the most perfect squelches I ever heard took place in a famous hotel in the Laurentians. A pompous dowager bustled up to the manager and announced, "I'm afraid your mountain air is going to disagree with me!" "Don't worry about that, madam," replied the manager. "I wouldn't dare!"

Install New Equipment For Antioch Recreation

The Antioch Recreation will soon become a more modern bowling place as the result of new equipment.

The lanes will be closed for two weeks while the American Machine Foundry pinspotting machines are being installed and the alleys readied for another new season. The machines also tell what first and second ball pins are left.

The newest in air conditioning equipment also is being installed for year-round bowling comfort.

Buick Special
6-Passenger 2-Door Riviera,
Model 46R

It's Bigger than Both of 'em

—but its price makes it one of America's 3 best sellers!

It's as simple as this:

Only two cars in all creation outsell Buick. And they are two of the well-known smaller cars.

So maybe it will pay you to ask how come Buick has zoomed to the No. 3 spot with such fast-selling company.

Well, one answer is the beautiful and brawny Buick SPECIAL you see pictured here—and the low price it carries.

It's the biggest bundle of high-powered performance and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

And that means more people want it and can afford it, because it's priced only a few dollars more than its two smaller-car rivals—even less than some models of those very same cars.

But the big answer comes from a sure fact more folks have discovered: you get more pure automobile for your money in Buick than you get elsewhere.

Here, you get the extra wallop of big new Buick power raised to a new high—and pouring in smooth whisper from a brand-new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine of true high compression.

Here, you get the matchless buoyancy of Buick's great new ride—the extra-safe feeling of Buick's new handling ease—the extra stretch-out comfort of Buick roominess—the extra solidity and strength of Buick structure—the extra pride and prestige of Buick's new styling and dash.

Here, too—and nowhere else—you can get the silk-smooth performance and flash-fast response of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—the world's only transmission with the gas-saving mileage and switch-pitch action of the modern airplane propeller.

This week—this very day, if you wish—you can sample all these Buick blessings to your heart's content and your pocket's joy. Why not drop in on us and do just that?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

1956 Food Buying Cuts Deeper Into Family Budget

WASHINGTON — Americans are eating more food during 1956.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture notes that there is continued high demand for food as consumer incomes continue high and that food supplies at least are as large as last year, with retail food prices averaging about the same.

In view of these prospects, good consumption will probably be a little larger, both total and per capita.

Spending for food is expected to go up, too. The average person probably will spend more dollars on food, though the share of his income going to groceries will likely continue to be about 25 percent. The increased spending is expected to result not only from using a little more food but especially from buying the highly processed products that save preparation time in the kitchen.

Stocks of food were at their peak at the beginning of 1956 and the number of livestock on farms the largest since the end of World War II. This indicates continued heavy supplies of livestock products.

As compared to 1955, the average person this year will probably eat more beef, pork, fluid milk and chicken meat and slightly less veal, lamb and mutton. Consumption of butter and other manufactured dairy products, eggs, turkey meat and lard is expected to remain about the same as in 1955. The average person will probably use more processed vegetables and also more vegetable cooking and salad oils; and about the same amount of frozen fruits and juices.

Lenient Fathers Men of Personality

BERKELEY, Cal.—Men who are more lenient than strict in their attitudes toward child-rearing also appear to be in better psychological health, seem to have more pleasant personalities, and probably make better fathers a University of California psychologists believe.

Dr. Jack Block arrived at these conclusions in a study at the Institute of Personality Assessment and Research.

The fathers he studied were selected from a sample of 100 men who were participating in a larger research project at the Institute. All were given a specially constructed test that distinguished between subjects with different attitudes—"restrictiveness" versus "permissiveness"—toward bringing up children.

Dr. Block chose 20 high-scorers (restrictive) and 20 low-scorers (permissive) to be studied more closely.

Life More Secure Than In 'Good Old Days'

NEW YORK—Life was much more secure for American wage earners and their families last year than it was in "the good old days" of forty-five years ago. Little more than one-third as many deaths occurred in 1955 as would have been the case if the mortality conditions of 1911 had continued to prevail.

This is based upon the experience among the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's millions of industrial policyholders. During 1955 there were about 112,000 deaths reported among these insured. If the death rates had been the same as in 1911 there would have been 304,000 deaths, which means that 192,000 deaths were postponed during the year because of the reduction in mortality.

Despite outbreaks of respiratory disease early in 1955, and the intense and protracted heat waves during the summer, the death rate among the policyholders last year continued at the all-time low—0.2 per 1,000—which was established in 1954.

Army Still Relies On Horses and Mules

CAMP HALE, Col.—Mules and horses are still in the Army and playing an important role in the Army's cold-weather and mountain training program at this 9,500-foot installation.

The Army said the 308 mules and a few horses of the Fourth Field Artillery Battalion and 35th Quartermaster Company are often the only way to bring supplies and food to the 3,000 men living in this subzero country.

They are the only two mule-pack outfits in the Army.

Doubling Up

MILWAUKEE—Police here recently had the problem of dealing with a woman accused of making her salary go twice as far by cashing both her pay check and the stub. She paid for groceries by endorsing a check stub, police said. It was thought an innocent mistake until police discovered that she also cashed the check.

Amateur Chefs Set for May 19

Sequoits Play Fenton . .

conditions in the fourth Barnstable hit into a double play.

Swanson, Antioch pitcher, had a shut-out until the sixth inning when Buciak, Ela third baseman walked. Fenner sacrificed him to second; Brame, pitcher, walked, and after Meyer, second baseman flew out to Walsh at center, Becker walked, filling the bases.

Pohlman, shortstop, singled to center, scoring Buciak and Brame, but was caught at second trying to stretch the hit to a two-bagger.

These scores were sufficient to win the game, for Brame tightened and held the Sequoits hitless thereafter.

MOTHER'S DAY

MAY 13, 1956

LISTEN FELLOWS . . .

Every year before Christmas, she comes here and asks us about your favorite ties, shirts, socks, etc. . . or wants to know if there isn't something you've admired and thought you couldn't afford. Just before your birthday, she comes in again. We've gotten to know her pretty well, and we think she's grand.

Well, next Sunday is Mother's Day. We're sure you can't accuse us of any ulterior motive in reminding you, because you could hardly buy her a gift in a man's store. But we think she deserves something pretty dog-gone nice.

Girl Scout Council Plans Camps for Summer and Antioch Meeting May 21

Adult members of the Lakeside Girl Scout Council met on April 30th at the Gages Lake Woodland School and formulated final plans for the brownie and intermediate camps for this summer.

Mrs. Lucia Johnson of Antioch, and Intermediate Camp Chairman, announced that a few more counselors are needed, in particular, a waterfront director, and a registered nurse. Camp will be held at Druce Lake Camp, June 6 to 12, and anyone interested in counselor work may contact Mrs. Johnson at Antioch 766. Volunteers do not have to be a member of the Girl Scout Organization, and their expenses will be provided for.

Mrs. Clare Sargol of Lake Villa, and brownie Day Camp chairman, announced that only a registered nurse is needed. Day Camp will be held June 6, 7, and 8, at Camp Hastings, located east of Route 21 on Loon Lake Road, Lake Villa, and 100 girls will attend.

There will be a meeting of all camp counselors at the Antioch Scout House on May 21, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Joyce McCleod of Lake Villa, who has been serving as Juliette Low chairman, was officially elected in that capacity, and elected to serve on the membership nominating committee were Mrs. Louise Kaufmann, Antioch; Mrs. Olga Lindahl, Ingleside, and Mrs. Helen Foley, Grayslake.

Mrs. Alice Erickson of Round Lake, training chairman for the council, will conduct a training session for all adults interested in troop leadership, beginning May 10, at the Antioch Scout House, 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The course will consist of four four-hour sessions. Anyone interested in counselor work may contact Mrs. Erickson at Kilmall 6-1255.

Girl Scout Movie Benefit

A movie, "The Man Who Never Was," will be sponsored May 16 and 17 at the Antioch Theatre by the Woman's Club and the American Legion Auxiliary as a benefit for the Girl Scouts. Mrs. Anthony Scully is chairman of the committee in charge of ticket sales. The picture features Clifton Webb and Gloria Grahame.

Rural Antioch Youth

and I thought he was pulling a gun, so I shot him in the leg. In the darkness I had no idea he was just a 16-year-old kid," Hink said.

Shorts filed a delinquency petition against Dill and a 14-year-old youth.

Deputies Hink and Thomas Cusker said they were cruising on Rte. 131 west of Zion when they spotted the station wagon of Donald Irving which was reported stolen from a lot beside the Antioch State Bank earlier in the evening.

With red light, siren, and spot lights operating, the deputies gave chase from 21st st. to Rte. 173, here the station wagon pulled into a ditch and two of the occupants fled.

A 14-year-old youth, Thomas Triggs, Chicago, remained at the wagon and two others fled. The deputies fired warning shots, and then Hink fired the shot that struck Dill. The other youth kept going and hasn't been caught, although his identity is known.

Safety Problems Posed

By New Compact Homes

Today's small compact home presents some special problems in housekeeping and family safety. Unless these families plan carefully, they may sooner or later find themselves practically ousted by accumulations of furnishings, tools, clothing, furniture and other items.

Such accumulations make for cramped living conditions, which in turn produce hazards not ordinarily found in more spacious abodes. This warning comes from the Institute for Safer Living as a result of a study of small home accidents.

The principal trouble makers according to the Institute, are improperly stored tools and household goods and too large collections of unused household items. There is also a tendency to overstock rooms in a small home with more than necessary furniture and fixtures, resulting in numerous tripping or falling hazards.

The following suggestions are offered for safe small-housekeeping: When purchasing a new household item, consider its maximum utility and necessity. Do not purchase furniture or appliances that are too large for the rooms that will accommodate them.

Provide a wall storage board for all hand tools used around the home, particularly those with sharp edges.

A similar storage board or cabinet should be provided for kitchen cutlery. Both should be out of reach of children.

Arrange to store lawn and garden tools in the garage or a special corner of the basement. Space will be conserved by hanging long-handled tools on a wallboard built for the purpose. It's safer, too!

Provide a wall locker with locks for the storage of all household poisons such as lye, ammonia, washing soda, bleaches, cleaning fluids, etc. Note that it will help to conserve space to provide a single cabinet large enough for including poisonous insecticides and garden sprays.

It may look gruesome, but the entire cabinet should be unmistakably labeled with a skull and cross bones or similar warning device; then kept locked out of children's reach. Provide facilities for burning trash as fast as it accumulates. Also exercise your will power about disposing of unwanted household items when they no longer serve an immediate purpose. Small homes families cannot afford to store many items for "sentimental reasons," or that "may be used some day."

Many Problems Yet Before Man Can Rocket Into Space

BERKELEY, Cal.—Tomorrow's rocket ship may be like a miniature planet in which the first space travelers will have to take along their own atmosphere, their own day and night, and maybe even their own gravity.

This was suggested by Dr. Nello Pace, an associate professor of physiology at the Berkeley Campus of the University of California, speaking to a recent symposium on space medicine.

The Berkeley scientist explained that a way must be found to supply the rocket ship with an atmosphere consisting of oxygen and some "inert" gas, probably nitrogen. This would mean either carrying heavy tanks of the gases or manufacturing them somehow in flight. There would also be the problem of eliminating the respiratory end product, carbon dioxide. He suggested that part of this problem may be solved by carrying along tiny green plants that would supply the atmosphere with oxygen and utilize the carbon dioxide. The problem would remain, however, of adding another gas to the atmosphere, inasmuch as human beings cannot live on pure oxygen.

Dr. Pace cited several psychophysiological problems that must be dealt with. One of them is whether man needs a specific cycle of day and night, and, if so, what kind of such variation would permit optimal performance.

Big Flies Terror Of Insect World

WASHINGTON—Terrors of the insect world are fly devils, found everywhere except the polar regions.

These bloodthirsty, predaceous insects attack and kill about anything on wings near their own sizes. They themselves are the biggest of flies and some species measure as much as two-and-a-half inches in length. They are the Asilidae, or robber flies. One of the world's largest collections of these insects, containing nearly 28,000 specimens, has been added to the collections of the Smithsonian Institution.

The acquisition came from the estate of the late Stanley W. Bromley, formerly of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories. In addition to the robber flies, the collection contains approximately 7,000 other insect specimens. Dr. Bromley spent a lifetime in its assembly.

Dr. Bromley's primary interest was in the Asilidae. The way of life of these big "tigers" does not differ much around the world. One customarily sits motionless on the end of a twig. When another insect wings past, it darts out with lightninglike speed, grabs the victim in its powerful legs, and jabs its javelin-like proboscis into its body. Then it sucks the prey dry, leaving only the empty shell.

Segregation Held Not School's Top Problem

CHICAGO—Segregation is least important among major school law issues, "Duke University educator E. C. Bolmeier believes.

Dr. Bolmeier recently told the National Association of Secondary-School Principals that the most important legal issue in the schools is religious instruction, followed by liability from pupil injury, authority over pupil conduct, and racial integration, in that order.

"From a long-time view," he declared, the segregation issue "stands far down the list as an important issue in school law... if there is any doubt as to the eventual conformance with the recent United States Supreme Court decision, one need only to observe the expressed attitudes and opinions of college and high-school students of today who will formulate school policy tomorrow."

Starfish Simply Sends Stomach to Dinner

ITHACA, N. Y.—Cornell University zoologists are trying to find out how a starfish sends its stomach out for dinner.

Prof. John Anderson, head of the Cornell research project, said a hungry starfish grapples with a clam or oyster, then pushes its own stomach out through its mouth into the open shell. Digesting a complete living clam in an hour or two, the starfish pulls its stomach back in, Anderson said. One problem faced by the researchers, Anderson said, is how the starfish opens its prey's shell.

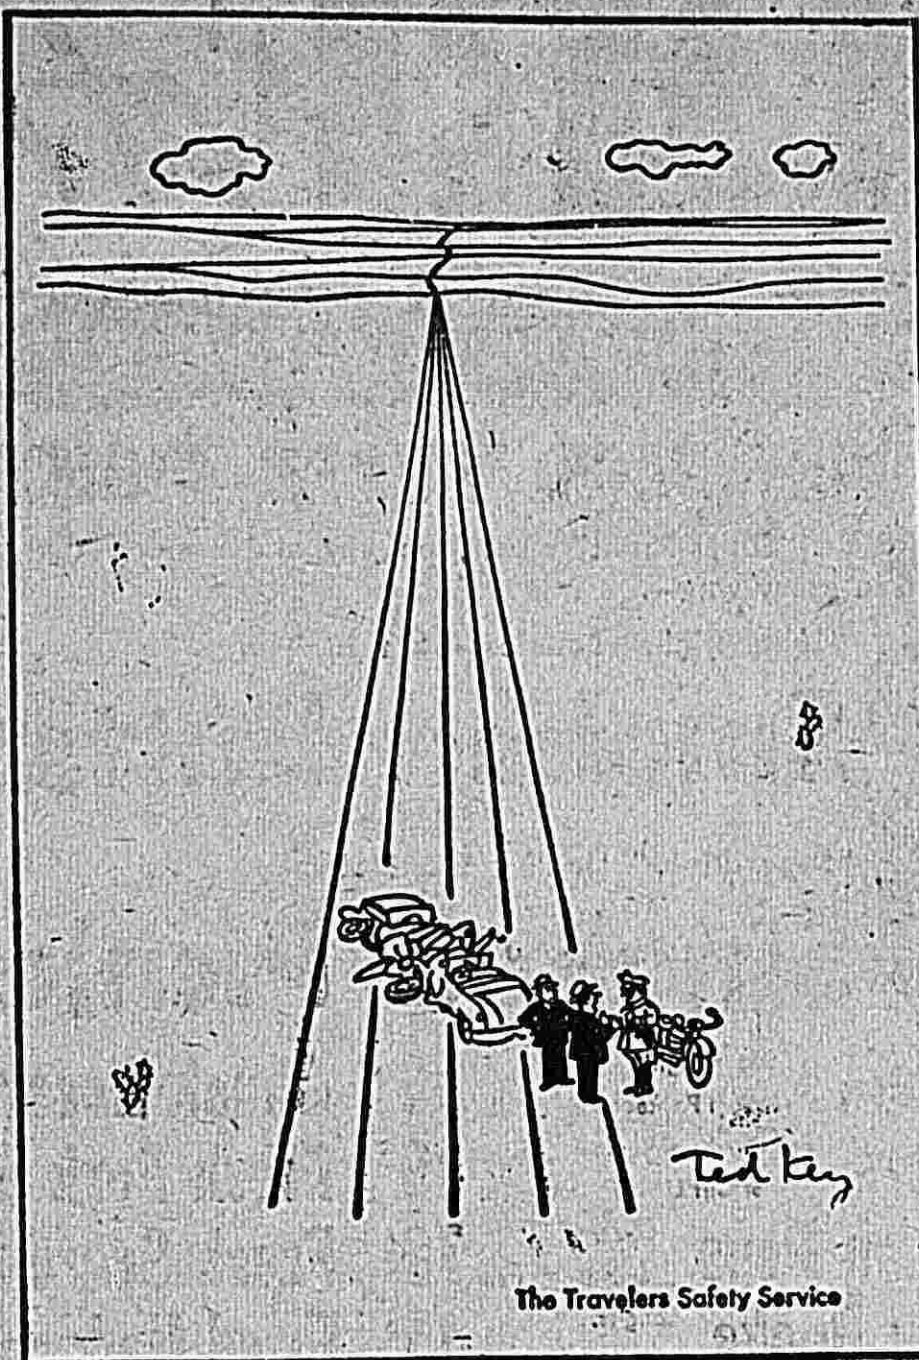

New Claims

MOSCOW—A Moscow newspaper claims Russia's "flying freighter" helicopters set two Soviet lifting records recently.

Moscow Pravda reported one helicopter reached a height of more than 2,000 meters (6,561 feet) with a four-ton load. A second with a two-ton load rose to 5,082 meters (16,673 feet).

What Lawn Mower Will You Need?

You can save lots of work this summer—time and money, too—if your lawn mower is a good one. The new power mowers turn a chore into a walk.

If your lawn is well developed and fairly smooth, the reel mower is best for you.

THE REEL MOWER—for established lawns. But if your lawn is composed of tough, fast-growing grass or has other "jungle" characteristics, the rotary mower will serve you better.

THE ROTARY MOWER—for difficult lawns. You may be won back to the hand mower if your lawn is small. Pennsylvania lawn mower authorities have found that the hand mower still does the best cutting job, especially if the blades are double ground.

The ladies auxiliary board will meet Friday, May 11, at the home of Myrtle Weismantel. The ladies are busy planning a Las Vegas party to be held May 26 at Henning Johnson's. Incidentally Henning Johnson is now open for business every day, including Mondays.

Saturday, May 12, the ladies will hold a bake sale at the Hucker Garage at Lake Villa, beginning at 9 o'clock a.m.

The Deep Lake Association will hold its spring meeting at 9 p.m., Saturday, May 12, at Henning Johnson's. Under consideration and discussion will be roads, beaches, sanitation and police protection and pollution, etc. It is up to local residents to be there to voice their opinion. This is the place for it. A very important problem to be discussed at this meeting is the control of weeds in our lake. A speaker will be present to explain this, so please make it your business to be there. This is your lake and community and we are doing everything possible to make it a fine community, and you are invited to join in to help put this over. New members are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Maier and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Galeske. We welcome them.

Lois Olsen is suffering with sciatic neuralgia. Hope she'll soon be better.

The Altar and Rosary Society of Prince of Peace Parish at Lake Villa is sponsoring a card party May 15 at 8 p.m. at the Lake Villa school.

Thank You

I would like to thank all my friends and relatives for the fine cards sent to me during my stay in the hospital.

Poppy Days Near
Poppy day is just around the corner—the day when the little red flower, the Flower of Remembrance, will be worn by all who pay homage to the dead and remember the unfortunate veteran and his family. Once again the inevitable cycle of time brings us to the day of Memorial ceremonies for our honored dead—the soldiers of our beloved Republic who fought and died to give us the treasured freedoms and liberties which we enjoy as citizens of this great nation—the United States of America.

As has been well said, "There is but one sentiment for soldiers—cheers for the living and tears for the dead."

Stop and think what help you can give by the purchase of the little red poppy. Never before has this help been needed more than now because of the increasing number of disabled veterans. At present there are over twenty million veterans in this country, men and women who have served in World Wars I and II and in the Korean Conflict. Through the sale of poppies much assistance can be given those requiring it—"Wear a Poppy for Remembrance."

Gold Star Members to Be Honored
Gold Star members of Antioch Unit, will be the guests of honor at the next meeting of Antioch Unit on Friday, May 11. Mrs. Addie Horton, Gold Star chairman, is in charge of the evening's program.

To climax a most successful season the league will hold a banquet May 10 at Our Country Club, north of Antioch.

Shhh!
your skin is showing your age!

You need Jacqueline Cochran's FLOWING VELVET

This modern flowing formula has helped countless women—just like you—who had despaired of a dry, prematurely aging skin.

Jacqueline Cochran has found a whole new answer to the dry skin problem and its main cause, the dehydration of the sub-surface tissues. After years of research, she discovered Hydrolin, a new ingredient that, for the first time, can and does transfer beneficial moisture into the deep tissues of the skin. Thanks to exclusive Hydrolin, blended with other rich components, Jacqueline Cochran created an entirely new kind of 3-way beauty formula.

Unique Flowing Velvet acts 3-ways:

It furnishes moisture that actually sinks into your skin.
It provides necessary oils for essential lubrication.
It maintains the normal balance of oils and moisture.

One touch mirrors the beautiful change! Tiny lines soften, years seem to melt away. Use Flowing Velvet day and night. It's hormone-free, greaseless, won't smear your make-up or smudge your pillow.

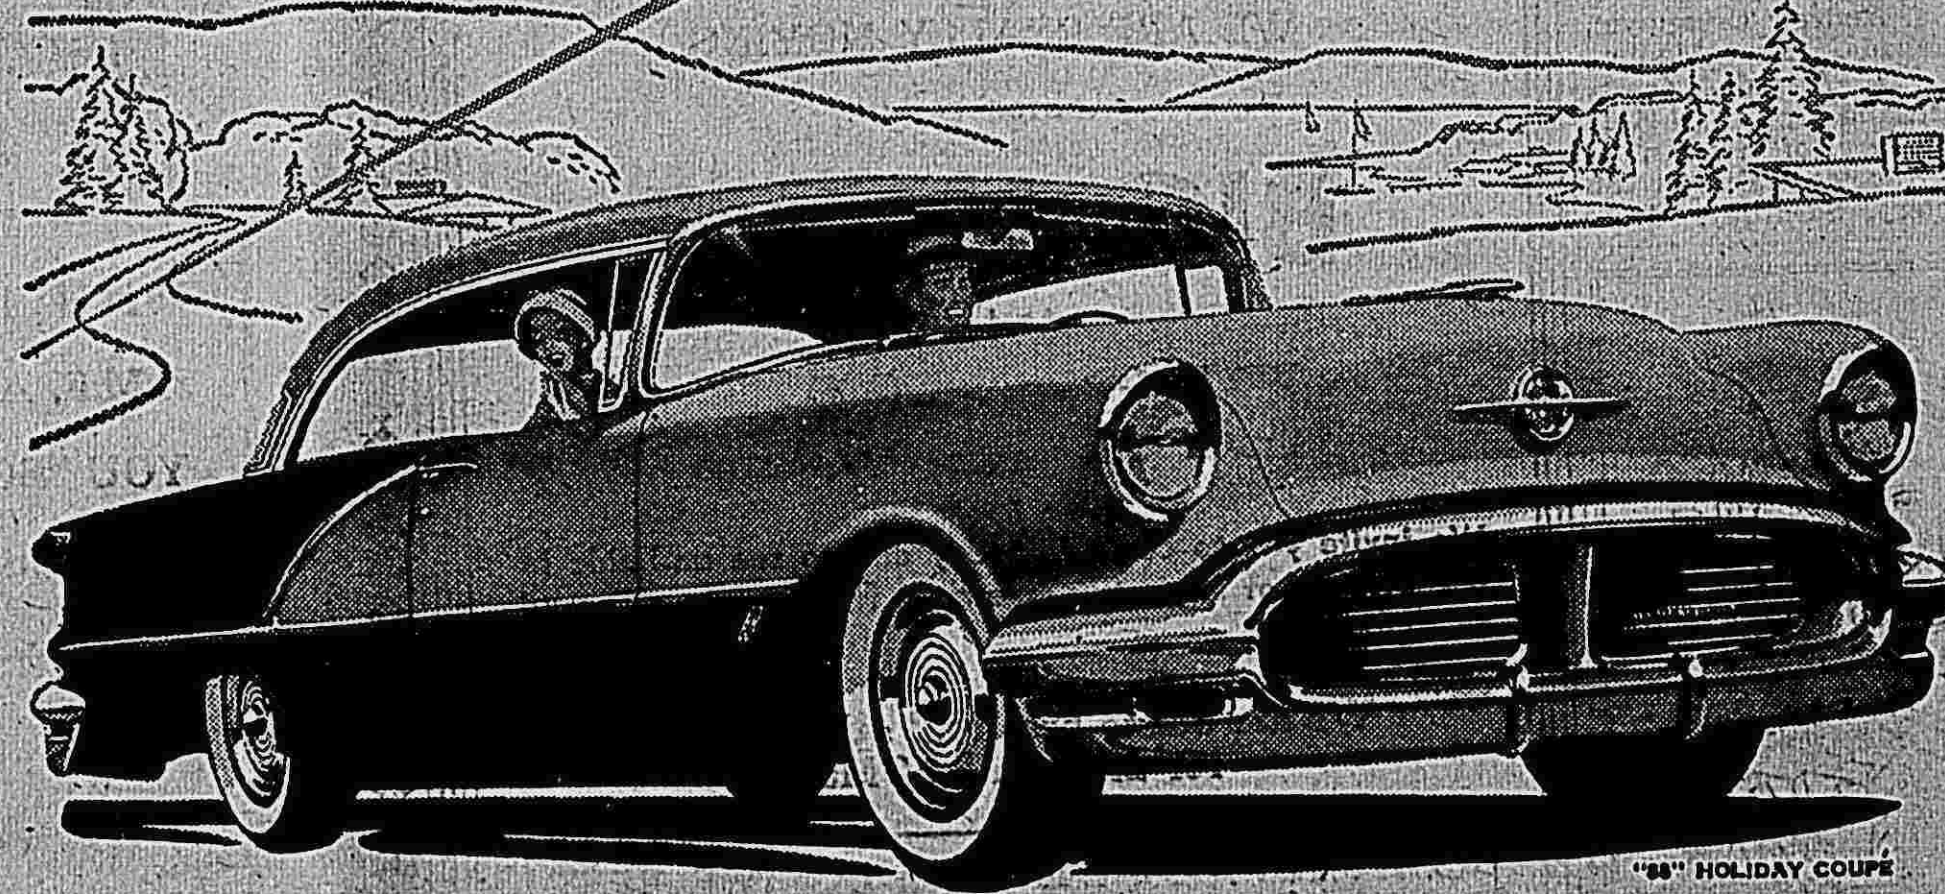

Our specially trained Jacqueline Cochran expert will be happy to show you what just a few drops of richly concentrated Flowing Velvet will actually do for your skin.
